2017 The year 10/1 of Revelations and Expansion

This year we are blessed with the vibration of the number 10. In spiritual profiling and numerology, we reduce 2017 by adding the numbers together $2+0+1+7=10$ and then we reduce the numbers further $1+0=1$ until we end up with the major influence of the year which is 1. The 1 is a significant number because it not only signals the beginning of a new era as we collectively start a brand new 9 year cycle this year, it also brings with it the energy of new beginnings, revelations and expansion in our personal life.

In profiling the year 2017, whilst your individual profile and numbers will be enhanced by the 1, we will also be learning individual numbers of the 2017 energy, which is helping discover ourselves and awaken to our true potential, and giving us through the 0 an extra opportunity to expand and grow. Let's look at the teachings of the numbers individually...

2 = brings teachings through relationships – these reflect to us what we need to evolve and learn.

0 = brings forward anything that we keep repeating, yet haven't completed for expansion and growth.

1 = brings teachings for the renewal of self – to find self-acceptance and self-love.

7 = brings teachings to self-awareness and self-revelations - be prepared to learn something about yourself that you may not have acknowledged or known. It is also the number to help connect you to your intuition and self-belief as the 7 is a very healing number.

In total these numbers brings the energy of opportunity, expansion and growth by awakening within us our truth and potential. If you don't know what that is, your revelation should appear this year. This is also a year to finally achieve something that you haven't been able to achieve up until now and this can be on a personal, family, business or relationship level. It's time to expand and grow and this number is here to finally help you move forward with new beginnings.

Personally

Last year we were given the opportunity to bring things to a head and make the changes that needed to be made so we could go into our next 9-year cycle starting in 2017 ready for new beginnings. 2016/2017 is the death/rebirth years of the 9-year cycle. 2016 was all about "expect the unexpected" and I am sure that every one of you had, or know of someone who had, a significant change in 2016 that maybe not everyone saw coming. I saw this both in my own personal life and through my many personal reading appointments and this surely was a major theme for many. Anything that was not meant to move forward into the new energy of 2017 was meant to end in 2016 and sometimes that may not have been by choice.

Every year when we go into a new vibration we are given the opportunity to start afresh. This year, having a major influence of the 1, which is all about new beginnings, and the 0, which is all about completion, you are going to be given extra help to move forward in areas that you may have felt stuck, and maybe even felt stuck there for many years.

A word of caution here! The only way the universe can give you guidance and direction is through you, by you attracting what you need to get to where you want to go. Your soul knows more than your intellectual mind about the right path and direction for you and that may not be the path you think it is. If you try and go against your soul vibration and inner knowing (gut instinct) in 2017, be prepared to learn the hard way.

Revelations come when we awaken. To awaken we may have to experience something that we are not seeing and that may come from what we perceive at the time as a negative experience. It doesn't always have to be a negative, but think about the times in your life when you have had your biggest growth. It is usually because an experience forced you to grow. While I call the above experience a negative one, it is really only perceived as negative because it will trigger uncomfortable emotions that can include fear and pain. However, it will always bring in the gift of evolution by teaching you something that will help you grow. It is also always in direct balance. The bigger the trigger the bigger the growth.

In 2017, more than ever, is a great time to listen to your inner world and find that connection with self.

Having a 1 as the major influence for the year will certainly have us digging deeper into the ways we abandon ourselves. The dual nature of the 1 is the number 2, which brings with it the lesson of Co-dependence as a major theme. Because the next year 2018 will be a 2 year, the following theme will play out over the next 2 years.

The soul lessons of the 1 and 2 are dual or opposite in nature.

1 – Independence, the lesson of abandonment.

2 – Co-dependence, the lesson of attention.

In this theme, we will be asked to look at the ways we are abandoning ourselves, especially through co-dependent actions and addictions. If you haven't yet learnt to say no, you do things out of obligation or do everything for everyone else and neglect yourself, you will have this bought to your attention. If you don't listen and continue with any co-dependent behavior, it is quite likely you will experience something that affects you. If you have any addictive behaviors that need changing, then again, I would listen and start to make those changes. This year is a great time to do this with the energy of new beginnings. If you choose to ignore this and don't start to make the changes you know you should, then don't be surprised if you get a wakeup call.

This will be more specific for those who carry the numbers 1 or 2 in their personal spiritual profile, in either their personality, life path or personal year. If you are unsure, I am offering a $15 special offer on personal numerology reports for 2017 at the end of this report.

The 7 is all about truth, belief, trust, intuition, healing and self-reflection. Double check your agreement with self. Are you wanting others to believe in you, but you don't believe in you? Are you wanting others to be more truthful, but you continue to tell little white lies? Do you trust others in balance? Meaning you don't give away all your trust, but you can trust. What the 7 is teaching you in 2017 is to use the judgements you have in your life to help you discover what you need to shift and change within yourself. When you shift and change this within you, the revelations will appear and so will the opportunity you have been seeking so you can finally move forward.

It is a powerful energy vibration that we are heading into and, just as everything is on the earth plane, it is dual in nature.

On one side, it's an energy that will have you digging deep into your subconscious shadow/ego side of self. To heal and move forward with any addictions and past issues.

On the other side, it's an energy that wants to connect you more to your authentic self, the person you came here to be and would be if your stuff and your ego didn't hold you back. This side of you is your intuitive self-actualized self that knows from within your purpose and reason for being here.

As we awaken to our more authentic selves and awaken our spirits, we can finally quieten down the cravings of a relentless ego that is always needing something to fulfill it externally.

Globally

Just as a 10/1 year brings forth revelations and expansion for us individually, it also does this globally. In the previous 10/1 year of 2008, some of the significant events were as follows:

- In Feb 2008, then Prime Minister Rudd apologized to Indigenous Australians and the stolen generations when he said sorry.
- China finally got to host an Olympic games.
- After more than a decade, on-the-run Bosnian Serb war time leader known as the Butcher of Bosnia Radovan Karadzic appeared before the International Criminal Tribunal in Hague.
- Barak Obama became the 44th US President and the first African-American elected president.
- Quentin Brice is sworn in as the first female governor-general of Australia.
- The apple iPhone was officially released in Australia.
- Google Maps added Australian streets to its Google Earth software.

In summary, the 10/1 year is all about firsts, new beginnings and finally getting the results we need in order to expand and move forward. If you feel that you have been trying to get somewhere, achieve something, have the relationship of your dreams, or do something you didn't think you could do, 2017 wants to help you. It wants to help you uncover any blocks that have sabotaged your previous results and it wants to give you some extra help and luck to bring forth your desires and dreams. All you need to do is believe and trust in yourself and the universe and clear and heal yourself of anything that triggers and affects you this year. You don't need to go searching, you won't miss it, your experiences will mirror what you need to know to grow.

As a mass, we are discovering the power of revelations. We are finally awakening in the bigger picture, especially when it comes to governments. We are awakening to the fact that our governments are more about themselves and self-preservation than the people they serve, and more about the money than protecting the environment for future generations. I feel this year there will be a lot of environmental secrets coming out of the closet. Where people will really stand up for their communities that are being threatened by harmful industry, including the coal seam gas and the underhanded ways government have approved and pushed this in some rural areas, including the area around the NSW Pilgla region and SA. SA will also take on the political heads wanting to make SA a nuclear dumping ground. Finally, people are realizing that they have a voice and that when they stand together, they have a real chance of having that voice heard. Governments will be put on notice that people and their livelihoods for generations to come are more important than the money that can be made in the short term. With our own election debacle this year, and that of the US presidential election, it is a pretty clear indication that people want change and are starting to recognize that for change to happen, they have to have a voice and be heard.

Finances for 2017

Finances will always be a strong focus for many and in 2017 it is no different. The 9 energy of 2016 would have had many looking at the work area of their lives and the way they create their financial abundance. With the energy of 2017, the changes that were made or identified in the work area can really move forward. If you are still to find what that is, don't worry, you only needed to realize you want change in 2016. The energy of 2017 will help you find your new beginning and kick it off if you haven't done so already.

From our last 10/1 cycle in 2008, when the global financial crisis really hit, money and finances have been struggling to rebuild on the world stage ever since. It's a volatile area and one that will remain so for many years to come. Gone are the days of the get rich quick schemes, which fail very quickly in this energy. Authenticity rules. People trust authentic people. Business is now building on it, by people trusting more in who they know and personal referral than an ad in the local paper. Important information for those in business.

What this next 9-year cycle is sure to teach us in this new energy, is money is connected to the heart. On some level, each and every one of us will be learning the true value of money and finances in the material world. For some, it will be learning that money should never come before the heart. Those who choose to put it before the heart, will find it can be a lonely life sitting in an ivory tower counting money. For some, it will be learning to believe they deserve the money to create their dreams and to value the part money plays in this. They will learn to bring money back into balance. If they spend too much, they will learn to save. If they are miserly, they will learn to enjoy their money more through the richness of experience and giving.

On the world stage banks will come under fire with the way they do business. The world will wake up to the fact that the big banks run and control the economy, including the recessions. The more debt you are in personally, the more control they will have over you and your future. We are heading for another recession in the years to come and I feel it will start around 2018. 2017 will be a great time to clear as much personal debt as you can.

A little wisdom for finances. There is no limit to the money you can have in your life. There is no difference between those who have it and those who don't, other than an inner program and belief system. There are people who have had nothing and worked hard to achieve everything. Others have had everything and then lost the lot. It has nothing to do with luck, it is all to do with your relationship with yourself and what you believe and perceive about money. If your focus is more on not having money...you need to change this quickly, because that is exactly what will continue to show up for you...more bills to take more money from you, so you never have enough. This year can really help with these new programs and thoughts and bring opportunities to help you with this, and also opportunities to grow your finances this year.

In summary, it's a great time to expand on or move forward with any changes you want to make in your world of money, finances and career. For some, that will be starting something completely new. It's a good year to change jobs, change careers, launch a new business or project, or even begin a new direction with study. Just as it is a great year to start a new budget, start new thoughts and programs associated with money and finance. Lastly, for some, money issues going through the court system can also finally move forward to conclusion.

2016 is coming to a close...

This report is always released at the end of the year, so while we are still in 2016, we still have time to connect to the energy of what this vibration has been trying to teach us. Here is an overview of what 2016 has been bringing to your attention.

In summary, 2016 will be teaching you...

2016 is here to help you change any area of your life that you are not happy with. It's time for change, so you don't take what you no longer need into the next 9-year cycle.

2016 is helping you recognise community and caring. We are all connected and everyone around you is helping you grow into the person you came here to be.

2016 is asking us to consider mother earth and the environment. We can all make a difference in some little way through the choices we make and where we choose to spend our abundance.

2016 is asking you to see the world and your bigger picture as positive and turn away from the flashy negativity of the ego. Heal your own ego, so you can live the life you came here to live.

2016 is helping you understand the balance between giving and receiving. If one side is out of balance, the other will be what shows up. If your giving is out of balance, others will keep taking and you won't receive.

2016 is a very service orientated number. If you're out of alignment with how you serve others, clients, jobs or finances will be challenging.

2016 is about letting go of all that no longer serves you in your life.

In summary 2017 will be teaching you...

2017 will be supporting you to start anew. New projects, jobs, relationships and work possibilities are all highlighted.

2017 will be bringing in a lucky break for some, with long term dreams that have been out of reach finally coming to fruition.

2017 will be teaching you a lot about yourself and help you discover yourself on a much deeper level.

2017 is also a great year to connect to your intuitive side and start to follow your inner promptings.

2017 is the perfect time to rebirth yourself and step onto your true path and purpose.

2017 is a good year to deepen relationships, starting with the relationship with yourself. When this is going well, so will all the other relationships in your life.

2017 will be helping you acknowledge and release any co-dependent and addictive traits you have been carrying.

Here is a fabulous exercise to do to get you ready for 2017 - The Year of revelations and expansion.

Go over your 2016 year so far and write down everything that has inspired you, what has made you happy, what have you achieved and what you are proud of. You may have had some challenges in 2016, but you would also have had some fantastic times too. These are the times you want to celebrate and it's this positive energy that you want to take with you into 2017. Finalise your 2016 on a joyous note.

Julie Kay 2017 What's New?

Author, Spiritual Profiler, Psychic Medium, Healer and Sacred Heart Teacher

In all that I do, I love helping others connect to their inner most sacred self to clear the stuff that holds us back. Through my personal appointments, workshops, retreats and books, my vision is always to help others find their happiness and live with purpose. In 2017 I will be adding some new workshops and the Love Life Retreats will be evolving into the Shift Sanctuary. I will be combining my love life teachings with Deb Casagrande's, who will bring to the retreats her training in the Demartini Method® and her cache of personal development and human behaviour research. Launching in February 2017.
